

Beaujolais Mal Coiffé
An apprentice wine at best

The Trump Winery meticulously weaves together, combs over if you will, its vines, a process that produces a complicated fruit perfect for its outrageous wines.

Beaujolais Mal Coiffé is the Trump Winery's flagship wine. It's nose? Forget about it. This is a wine that should be judged solely for its incredible ego.

GOVERNMENT WARNING:

Taxing the rich is just about the stupidest thing you can do. Buy more wine, drink it, and let the rich be rich — that is what they are really good at.

Ingredients:

Propylene glycol, Triton X-100, glycine betaine, sulfites, sulfates, sulfides, MSG and some alcohol.
